

Dimensional/Soul Body Review and Next Steps By Suzy Miller

Congratulations again on completing the Awesomism Process.

Before we discuss next steps, here are the most common responses that I have received from the Collective Consciousness of the Children to the dimensional/soul questions.

Q1) These children seem to read minds. Is that happening and how?

Response: These children do, indeed, read minds, and this is partially due to their innate interconnectedness. As I've said before, they literally function as one. The phrase, "being of one mind" is literal for them. Being connected in this way is simply part of who they are. They themselves are unconscious on a human level of these skills, and would not assume that it is a talent if asked! For those of you concerned that they have been reading your minds all along, let me state that, just like telepathy, reading minds for them is not a word-for-word experience; rather, it is more likely that they pick up the nuances of your internal dialogues. I will say that more often than not they are putting thoughts and ideas into your head, especially if they are non-verbal. So, when you get a sense of what might be of support to them, try it, even if it makes little sense to you because it may be their idea!

© Copyright Suzy Miller and Blue Star Education and Research. This article is protected by the copyright laws of the United States and the Universal Copyright Convention. This material is provided exclusively for students of the Awesomism Practitioner Process and, as such, should not be distributed or in any way shared with others without the written permission of Suzy Miller.

Q2) Where are these children when they are not present here? Response: They are either focused in other realms, dimensions, states of consciousness, or are preoccupied with a thought, feeling, or physical experience.

Q3) Why do these children choose such a hard life?

Response: The child does not choose, but the soul does. And this population happens to be a soul group that is here to support the elevation of human consciousness and a collective opening to love beyond what has been understood before! Each individual child needs support just as anyone in human form does from time to time. The soul, however, knows just what it is doing, and so the child's life process can be trusted as perfect even with its perceived imperfections.

Q4) What dimension or reality are these children from?

The vast majority of the children that have come to me are not from the dimensional realm that is common to earth. Earth has 12 dimensional realities, and when I initially asked, I was told that all the children were from dimensional experiences beyond Earth. Since then, I have come to question dimensions, only because, from their perspective, there are none. We are the ones who are linear in nature. They, however, experience unity. So, it may be better to say that they come from places and spaces with different vibrational signatures than that of Earth! The thousands of children that I have connected with also suggest that they have not incarnated here very often, if at all, and the last occasion was at the time of Lemuria. The template that we set in one of our first modules was originally called the Lemurian Technology of Love as it resets our energy back to that space in history.

Q5) What are these children consciously aware of? And why don't they share their awareness directly with us?

Different children are aware through their human neurology of different experiences. What is important to understand here is that their neurology is not typical, meaning that they not only perceive differently but they also process information in ways that most neurologists cannot fathom. For now, let me suggest that they receive information as fractals and feel that information with their entire bodies. It is challenging for them to translate this information through their human neurology. This is why, for many of these kids, when they are good at something it is because they just know it.

© Copyright Suzy Miller and Blue Star Education and Research. This article is protected by the copyright laws of the United States and the Universal Copyright Convention. This material is provided exclusively for students of the Awesomism Practitioner Process and, as such, should not be distributed or in any way shared with others without the written permission of Suzy Miller.

2

No one had to teach them. They came with it, and their experience here on earth has simply enhanced what they came here to express. If it is not something they came to express, they are typically uninterested in being “taught” it.

Now, on to Next Steps!

For those that have eyes to see and ears to hear, the world of energetically sensitive children is fascinating and provides an awakening for anyone who taps into that consciousness. The CCC holds vast information that may not be fully recognized for years to come. You, however, now have the knowledge and ability to start paving the way for all that they have to share! I find the multidimensional awareness of this population by far the most exciting!

I am so grateful that you have taken this journey and I assume that you may have come out of it with more questions than you have answers. That is WONDERFUL! If you found the check-in challenging, please do not worry. The practice of connecting to the CCC plugs you into another level of consciousness, which will continue to unfold for you based on two things:

1. 1) The amount of practice you put into it, and
2. 2) Divine timing.

For close to two decades, I have watched one person after another open to gifts that they never knew they had. I can assure you that something has been opened within you during this process, and the CCC will now take it from here!

If you feel that you have opened to more than you can consciously digest, fabulous! Ask the children to support you in integrating all that they have offered you. The CCC is very interested in supporting you, but, as I said before, you do need to ask.

If, like so many before you, you feel that life may never be the same now that you know what you know, congratulations! That is precisely what the CCC intended!

So, what are your next steps? The answer is, that's really up to you.

Obviously, you are free to use what you have gained here in any way you see fit.

© Copyright Suzy Miller and Blue Star Education and Research. This article is protected by the copyright laws of the United States and the Universal Copyright Convention. This material is provided exclusively for students of the Awesomism Practitioner Process and, as such, should not be distributed or in any way shared with others without the written permission of Suzy Miller.

3

WOW! So, this is the end of your Awesomism Process and the beginning of a lifelong connection to higher states of awareness. I am sincerely grateful that you completed this Process and am excited to hear how you use the information moving forward! I have no doubt that the children not only called you to this Process, but that they also will continue to support you as you support them. I wish you nothing but the best as your journey continues!

Many Blessings!